Because In Chess, Unlike Checkers, The Game Continues After Checkmate

The Contestants:
JAY-Z AND LIL WAYNE

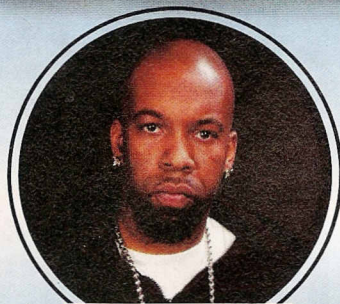

According to EbenGregory, the object of checkers is to be the last one with game pieces remaining on the board. During the game, pieces can only move diagonally, and only one space at a time. When a player moves one of his pieces so that it “jumps” over an adjacent piece of their opponent and into an empty space, that player captures the opponent’s piece. A player wins by removing all of his opponent’s pieces from the board or by blocking the opponent so that he has no more moves. While there are some similarities to its checkers counterpart, chess distinguishes itself as a more intricate game on many levels. In chess, you have 6 different types of pieces, each with specific rules on how they move and can be played in the game. There is 1 king and queen, 2 rooks, 2 knights, 2 bishops and 8 pawn pieces. But... chess varies from checkers in one significant way: You win the game when you put the opponent’s king in a position where it cannot escape (checkmate), or is captured. And now...a story about playing chess instead of checkers. I call this: It’s hard to checkmate a moving King that’s busy watching his Throne. ACT I: Baby makes the first move saying, “I don’t think [Jay-Z] is the number one emcee in no kind of way. Wayne’s the best. He do the most and he make the most money. I don’t think no n---- in the business make more money than us. How can you be the best if you don’t make the most money?” ACT II: Jigga Man responds in kind saying, “Being lyrical is just a matter of opinion, it’s who you like, so you know that’s his opinion. As far as money, you know, that’s a little more factual. We can determine that. It’s gonna cost [to see my bank account]. Put it up, if he’s that confident, I’ll give him a little glimpse. It’s crazy so knock it off. But as far as being lyrical, that’s for the viewers, that’s everybody.” ACT III: Jigga Man tops Forbes Cash King list for 2010 at $63 Million for the year and 2011 for that matter ($37 million). ACT IV: Jigga Man fires a double entendre subliminal at Birdman on “H.A.M.” saying: “Really, you got baby money. Keep it real with n---, N----- ain’t got my lady money.” ACT V: Weezy makes a move and responds to Jigga’s baby money line saying, “Given my wit, I would probably play off of it. I definitely would. But I wouldn’t make it a competition, because actually, the subject (baby money) that he’s talking about in that line, I can’t box with the god. I’d be the first one to tell you that.” ACT VII: Weezy makes another move on “I’m Good” saying, “Talkin’ bout baby money, I got ya baby money, Kidnap yo b----, get that how much you love yo lady money /I know you fake n----, press yo breaks n---, I’ll take you out, that’s a date n----/I’m a grown ass blood, stop playin wit me, play a--hole, and get a a-- whippin/I think you pussy cat, Ha.. hello kitty.” ACT VIII: Who knows but it’s coming. And now... an EbenGregory riddle me this: Is it more fun to smugly announce “checkmate” to your vanquished opponent, or do you prefer to whittle away their resolve slowly with each request to “King” you?

What They Said, What EbenGregory Thinks They Mean

YOUNG NOBLE

“Yes, it’s definitely true. Think it was the night of his... had a little memorial for him with his mom and his family and s---. We had hit the beach, threw [in] a lot of s--- he liked at the beach. Some weed, some chicken wings, he loved orange soda, all that kind of s---.”

- Young Noble explaining how, during a memorial barbecue featuring fried chicken and orange soda, they rolled Tupac’s ashes into a blunt... and smoked him.

What EbenGregory Thinks They Mean: Necromancy x Loyalty = Conventional religion. Act like you get it.

YOUNG NOBLE

“Pac loved that kind of s---, so we were giving him our own farewell and that night, I forgot which one of us came up with it. But we had his ashes and s---.”

- Young Noble still explaining how, during a memorial barbecue featuring fried chicken and orange soda, they rolled Tupac’s ashes into a blunt... and smoked him.

What EbenGregory Thinks They Mean: The return makes one love the farewell.

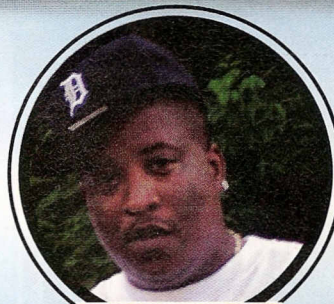

YOUNG NOBLE

“[...] We twisted up some of that great granddaddy California kush and mixed the big homie with it. He was flowing through our system, you heard?”

- Young Noble still explaining how, during a memorial barbecue featuring fried chicken and orange soda, they rolled Tupac’s ashes into a blunt... and smoked him.

What EbenGregory Thinks They Mean: Pause.

E.D.I.

“I came up with that s---. If you listen to ‘Black Jesus,’ he (Pac) said, ‘Last wishes, n--- -- smoke my ashes.’ That was a request that he had. Now, how serious he was about it? We took it serious.”

- E.D.I Mean explaining how he came up with the idea to, during a memorial barbecue featuring fried chicken and orange soda, roll Tupac’s ashes into a blunt... and smoke him.

What EbenGregory Thinks They Mean: There are some things so serious you have to laugh at them.
